About the Directory

The purpose of this directory is to provide information about resources in Wisconsin that may be helpful to you and your family. The Autism Society of Wisconsin believes that every person and family affected by autism is unique. You have the right to learn about all options and then select what you feel is the most appropriate for you. Some of the resources listed in this directory may be right for you and your family, while others may not match your family’s unique needs.

There are many more local resources that may be helpful to you. There may also be a local Autism Society Resource Directory for your area.
http://www.asw4autism.org/local_chapter_guides.html

If you find any errors, or have any additional resources you think should be included, please let us know by calling the ASW office at 1-888-428-8476. Inclusion of names on this list does not indicate endorsement of any practitioner by ASW or local Wisconsin chapters. Families have different levels of satisfaction with every professional or service named.

The design of this resource directory is based on the Finding Your Way: A Navigation Guide for Wisconsin Families who have Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs and Disabilities developed by the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs program, within the Wisconsin Department of Health Services. To access a complete copy of this guide please follow the link below.

Where to Ask Questions

Autism Society State & Local Affiliates

Autism Society affiliates is your best source of information and support. An affiliate is a place where dedicated parents and professionals provide information and services specific to a local area. Parents can find resources for recently diagnosed children, and families can find comfort and companionship managing the years of growth and change.

Screening for Developmental Delays

Birth to 3
The Birth to 3 Program is for children ages birth to 36 months. Eligibility is based on a diagnosed disability or significant delay in one or more areas of development. A team will evaluate the child’s ability to learn (cognitive development), move, see and hear (physical/motor development), communicate and understand other’s communication (speech and language development), respond to and relate with others (social and emotional development), and eat, dress and care for daily living needs (adaptive development).

Early Childhood Special Education Programs
Each school district in Wisconsin is responsible for providing a continuum of special education and related services to children with disabilities and who need special education. Students age three (or who are within 60 days of turning 3) can be referred to their local public school. Children are evaluated to determine if they met the one of the state’s eligibility criteria. Special education and related services may provide consultation to staff, direct services to the child, training related to the disability, and other services that are identified in the child's Individualized Education Program.

Special Education

Each school district in Wisconsin is responsible for providing a continuum of Special Education and Related Services to Children with Disabilities and who need special education. Children are evaluated to determine if they met the one of the state’s eligibility criteria. Special education and related services may provide consultation to staff, direct services to the child, training related to the disability, and other services that are identified in the child’s Individualized Education Program.

Home Schooling

If you have decided to home school your child, you must file a form with the Dept. of Public Instruction called PI-I 206. This form states that you will provide at least 875 hours per year of instruction using a sequentially progressive curriculum of fundamental instruction in six areas: reading, language arts, mathematics, social studies, science, and health. There is no monitoring done by DPI, and home-schooled students are not required to take... standardized achievement tests. You don’t need to have your curriculum or calendar approved, and you don’t need to have a teaching certificate, but you must take attendance.

Family Support Program
Provides individual services and supports to families that include a child with severe disabilities.

Katie Beckett Program
A special eligibility process that allows certain children with long-term disabilities, mental illness, or complex medical needs, living at home with their families, to obtain a Wisconsin ForwardHealth Medicaid card.

Kinship Care
A program designed to help support a child who resides outside of his or her own home, either temporarily or for the long term, with the relative. For children who do come to the attention of the child welfare system, Kinship Care creates another placement option for a child who may not be able to continue living at home with his or her parents.
